View of a New Studio

Robert A. Monroe (right), president of Jefferson Cable Corp. of Charlottesville, leads several members of the Virginia Cable Television Association on a tour of Jefferson Cable's new Channel 11 studio at 324 W. Main St. Members of the state association opened their 1969 convention at the Downtowner Motor Inn yesterday. Among other events, they were to hear talks by Democratic attorney general candidate Andrew Miller and Republican gubernatorial candidate Linwood Holton. With Monroe on the tour are (from left) Howard Lewis of Winchester Cable Co., Jason Horrell of Hampton Roads Cable and Gene Paige Payne of Video Engineering Co. of Washington.
